STATISTICAL COMPASS

1095 FEDERAL REPUBLIC OF GERMANY

EXPLANATORY NOTES

The present "Statistical Compass", which comprises selected figures from all spheres of official statistics, provides an idea of the demographic and economic development of the Federal Republic of Germany in post-war years.

Starting point are the figures for 1950 which, as a rule, not yet include the Saar and Berlin (West). For the time before 1950, figures are available only in some few fields.

Because of the limited space available in this brochure, it has in general been refrained from making comments or adding footnotes. For stock figures it has not been indicated whether they are key-date figures or averages. Readers interested in the details should refer to the relevant publications of the Federal Statistical Office.

Where we live

THE FEDERAL REPUBLIC OF GERMANY

The Federal Republic of Germany is a democratic and social constitutional state on a parliamentary basis. Its Constitution is the "Basic Law" of 23 May 1949.

The member states of the Federal Republic are the Laender Schleswig-Holstein, Hamburg, Lower Saxony, Bremen, North Rhine-Westphalia, Hesse, Rhineland-Palatinate, Baden-Wuerttemberg, Bavaria, the Saar and Berlin (West). In Berlin (West), the implementation of the Basic Law is, due to the reservations of the Western Allies, subject to certain restrictions.

Legislative power in the Federal Republic is vested in the "Bundestag" and the "Bundesrat". The Bundestag comprises 518 members, including 22 from Berlin (West) who have only a deliberative voice. In the 6th legislative period extending from 1969 to 1973, 237 members of the Bundestag belong to the Social Democratic Party of Germany (SPD), 201 to the Christian Democratic Union (CDU), 49 to the Christian Social Union (CSU) and 31 to the Free Democratic Party (FDP). The Bundesrat has 45 members who are appointed by the Laender governments, including four from Berlin who have a deliberative voice. Through the Bundesrat the Laender participate in the legislation and administration of the Federation.
