Introduction

The »kleine berlin-statistik 2018« (statistics for the City of Berlin 2018, key facts and figures) offers information on the development of the German capital, based on the most important statistical results.

Key figures to demographic, economic, social, cultural and political structures of Berlin are shown in Chapter 1 to 26. The results are compared to previous years. The brochure also contains information on the city's boroughs (Chapter 27), data on Berlin's development since 1871 (Chapter 28) and figures for the region of Berlin-Brandenburg (Chapter 29).

The »kleine berlin-statistik 2018« gives an initial overview of the data provided by official statistics. A similar brochure is available for the federal state of Brandenburg (»kleine brandenburg-statistik 2018«). Both booklets are also published in German.

Comparative figures for the federal states can be found in the common statistics portal of the statistical offices of the Federal Republic of Germany and the federal states www.statistikportal.de.

Every community of persons living together and forming an economical unit as well as persons who live alone and, nevertheless, manage for themselves are counted as a household (private household). A household may include relatives and persons who do not belong to the family as such (e.g. partners in life).

Married couples with children as well as single parents and unmarried couples with their unmarried children living in the same household are counted as families.

National accounts (NA) are a statistical system for presenting a comprehensive, overall view of the economic activities of all business entities in Berlin. They are based on the European System of national accounts (ESA 2010) and the Classification of Economic Activities (WZ 2008). At the centre of national accounts is the origin of the gross domestic product (GDP) as a measure of performance in Berlin.

The foreign trade statistics provide information to the movement of goods across the border (exports and imports) between Berlin and foreign countries. Data is derived from customs documents of importers and exporters with countries outside the EU (extra trade). A second data source is the statistical registrations of acquisitions and deliveries within the community according to the Value Added Tax Act (intra trade).

Mandates

The parties received parliamentary seats in accordance with their share of the valid second votes. A party which won more direct parliamentary seats than it was entitled to in accordance with its share of the second votes in the entire polling area was authorised to retain such seats won in addition to the number gained through proportional representation. The other parties received as many compensatory seats as were required for allocation of the parliamentary seats in accordance with the proportion of the second votes.
