What does the List of Publications contain?

The annual List of Publications comprises all the titles available until April 1995. They may be consulted at the Federal Statistical Office or in larger libraries. For detailed lists of the sources of major statistical results going further back please see the bibliographies of sources of the Statistical Yearbooks.

All new publications are announced weekly in the "Bundesanzeiger" (Federal Advertiser), in "Statistischer Wochendienst" (Information on Statistics, Weekly), and monthly in "Wirtschaft und Statistik" (Economy and Statistics).

For the "Summary publications" in the first part of the List, a brief description of their content is given in addition to periodicity, latest issue, volume, format and price.

How is the publication system classified?

The publications of the Federal Statistical Office may be analysed into the three major groups:

- Summary publications,
- Subject-matter series,
- Classifications.

There are further issued maps, publications dealing with statistics of foreign countries and foreign-language publications. An outline of the entire publication system is provided in the chart on page 2.

The summary publications contain the results from several or all fields of activity of the Federal Statistical Office. Besides the general cross-section publications offering a comprehensive though condensed selection of figures, there are subject-matter related cross-section publications imparting information on specific spheres (e.g. education, construction, energy) or allocating it to specific groups of persons (e.g. women, young people, families).

There are further publications on organizational and methodological questions. Reference should be made in this connection especially to the series of publications entitled "Forum" und "Spektrum" der Bundesstatistik ("Forum" and "Spectrum" of Federal Statistics) which the Federal Statistical Office has created as a platform for the discussion of major problems of official statistics. In addition to experts from official statistics, the authors to be featured here will include experts from science and research.

The Statistisches Taschenbuch (Handbook of Statistics) provides important key data on spheres of life and economic areas in Germany.

The summary brochures, which generally are free of charge, provide information on selected fields of statistical work.

The results of individual statistics are issued within the scope of subject-matter series subdivided into large subject fields. Each subject-matter series comprises publication series containing results of continuous statistics supplemented, whenever necessary, by special contributions. The results of censuses/major surveys performed only at larger intervals are issued within the respective subject-matter series as non-recurrent publications.

Territory

In addition to the bibliographical information given for each publication, this List of Publications contains information on the detailed statistical breakdown within the individual publications by federal results, figures for "Länder" (federal states), "Regierungsbezirke" (administrative regions), "Kreise" or "Landkreise" (administrative districts), etc. As a consequence of the accession of the former German Democratic Republic to the Federal Republic of Germany on 3 October 1990, the above-mentioned detailed breakdown in the publications refers either to Germany as a whole or to its former parts. To make this more obvious, the following strategy was adopted:

1. If no additional information is given with the detailed breakdown indicated (for instance, federal results), the data relate to the territory of the Federal Republic of Germany since 3 October 1990.
2. For data referring to the former territory of the Federal Republic, the following information is supplied in brackets: "(former territory of the Federal Republic)"; these data relate to the territory of the Federal Republic of Germany incl. Berlin (West) before 3 October 1990.

3. It has been indicated which data relate to the new Länder and Berlin-East, i.e. Brandenburg, Mecklenburg-Western Pomerania, Saxony, Saxony-Anhalt, Thuringia and Berlin-East.

4. Where data refer to the territory of the former GDR, this has been indicated, and these are data for the period before 3 October 1990. The denomination "territory of the former GDR" does not imply any statement on the former legal status of Berlin-East.

The data provided in the publications of the statistical offices of the Länder (addresses see page 142) have a more detailed regional breakdown.

The classifications constitute subsidiary material for the uniform allocation of data in the statistics and for a breakdown of the results in conformity with the purpose of data collection and presentation.

Data from censuses are to some extent also shown in the form of thematic maps.

The category Statistics of Foreign Countries comprises cross-section publications with selected figures for a great number of countries (Statistical Yearbook for Foreign Countries, Quarterly Reports on Foreign Statistics) or data with detailed comments on the population and economy of individual countries (Reports on Foreign Countries).

The publications of the Federal Statistical Office as a rule are issued in the German language. In exceptional cases, there are however also foreign-language editions. The List of Publications is also available in German.

In order to enable long-term comparisons, particular importance was attached to the recording of the development over time – partly since 1950.

The statistical information contained in this edition is structured by major subject fields such as population, elections, employment, agriculture and forestry, production industries, building activity and dwellings, foreign trade, transport and communications, education, health, wages and salaries.

The problem of unemployment will remain one of the most controversial issues of economic and social policy in the coming years. Cyclical trends and, above all, structural changes are the factors that have a direct impact on employment. Representing, analyzing, and evaluating the trends of structural change and of employment in Germany thus is of crucial importance.

The complex issues involved are considered from various aspects in this publication. The authors are not only staff members of the Federal Statistical Office and the Thuringian Land Statistical Office, but also representatives of the Confederation of German Employers' Associations, the Federation of German Industry, the German Trade Union Federation, the Treuhandanstalt, the Halle Institute for Economic Research, and the Institute for Employment Research of the Federal Institute for Employment.

Statistik in bewegter Zeit

– Ehrengabe zum 65. Geburtstag von Egon Hölder –

(Statistics in Eventful Times – Honorary publication on the occasion of the 65th birthday of Egon Hölder)

Publ.: J. B. Metzlersche Verlagsbuchhandlung and Carl Ernst Poeschel Verlag, Stuttgart, Wiesbadener Graphische Betriebe, Wiesbaden

Published in 1992, 456 pages, clothbound with dust jacket, format: 15×22 cm, price: DM 88.–

ISBN 3-7910-0662-2

"Statistics in eventful times" was the motto of the nine years during which Egon Hölder was President of the Federal Statistical Office, and this is the title the editors have chosen for the publication.

The publication focusses on issues Egon Hölder was particularly concerned with as President of the Federal Statistical Office and where he had been the driving force. The book is subdivided into three parts: First, "Statistics in the Information Society" is contemplated and evaluated from an external point of view, i.e. from outside the Federal Statistical Office. Three "companions" of Egon Hölder deal with this subject in their contributions, each of them looking at it from his specific perspective: from the national point of view Professor Heinz Grohmann, Frankfurt, from the point of view of the EC Mr. Yves Franchet, Director-General of the Statistical Office of the European Communities, and from the point of view of the ECE Dr. Carlo Malaguerra, Chairman of the Bureau of the Conference of European Statisticians.

In the second part of the publication entitled "The Trends of Time – Challenges for Federal Statistics", staff members of the Federal Statistical Office describe some fields of work they "cultivated" together with Egon Hölder: from the population census to economic statistics all the way to the elections culminating in the first all-German Bundestag elections, from the first steps on the way to the "statistical German unification" to the establishment and development of the Berlin Branch Office of the Federal Statistical Office at Alexanderplatz.

The third part of the publication under the heading "Egon Hölder – Spoken and Written Words" presents selected texts of the departing President, among others on the subjects of public relations work and population census, on Environmental-Economic Accounting, the German unification and the European unification from the point of view of statistics.

As the editors state in the preface, "this publication is to show the work of Egon Hölder as President of the Federal Statistical Office, to explain guidelines of his Office policy also to outsiders and to make clear what his priorities were".

Im Zug der Zeit

– Ein Bilderbogen durch vier Jahrzehnte –
(The Trends of Time – Prints and Figures of Four Decades)

Edited by Egon Hölder

Published in 1989, 304 pages with 120 colour and 49 black-and-white photographs, 79 multi-coloured graphs, format: 17.5×25.5 cm, paperback

This book is designed to present prints and figures, not to show political relationships or economic theses, but to look into the day-to-day life of ordinary men and women. Do you remember what a hard job housework used to be still some decades ago and with how little ordinary people had to make do? Have the technological and economic developments of half a century made things easier for the average citizen, have they relieved him/her from burdens and constraints, or have they made people dependent?

The photographs show our way of life as it was, how it developed and as it is today, and the figures recorded are illustrated by graphs. The publication sets out 40 years of life in the Federal Republic of Germany, 40 years of economic and technological change. It is meant to entertain and inform and to create a vivid impression of the changes in our everyday life.

Im Trabi durch die Zeit – 40 Jahre Leben in der DDR

(With the Trabi through the Times – 40 Years of Life in the GDR)

Edited by Egon Hölder
with an introduction by Rainer Eppelmann

Published in 1992, 341 pages with 68 colour and 66 black-and-white photographs, 71 multi-coloured graphs, format: 17.5×25.5 cm, paperback

This book provides an insight into 40 years of history, 40 years of life in the GDR.

It affords the great opportunity to get informed about the possibilities of life of the average citizen from statistical analyses, without any limits due to governmental standards and constraints. The look back into the past also is to promote a better understanding on the part of those who did not have any contacts with life in the GDR for decades.

Similar to its "western" counterpart "Im Zug der Zeit – ein Bilderbogen durch vier Jahrzehnte", the publication describes what life was like in a socialist society, the problems of the people in the other part of Germany and also their hopes and dreams.

A cassette containing paperback versions of Im Zug der Zeit and Im Trabi durch die Zeit is available at the price of DM 39.80 (Code number 1010920, ISBN 3-8246-0337-3).

The book Im Zug der Zeit is available also as a hardcover version, clothbound with dust jacket, at a price of DM 48.– (Code number 1010900, ISBN 3-8246-0029-3).

Subject-Matter Related Cross-Section Publications

Wie spricht der Staat mit seinen Bürgern? (How Does the Government Talk with its Citizens?)

Published in 1990, 254 pages, format: 17×24 cm,
price: DM 19.80
Code number 1021110, ISBN 3-8246-0027-7

A symposium held in Boppard from 11 to 13 November 1987 focussed on a review, analysis and assessment of public relations work for the 1987 Population Census. Experts from science, advertising, market and opinion research, politics and the press discussed the experience gathered during the information campaign for the population census with a view to future dialogues with the general public.

This amply illustrated publication comprises the papers presented at the symposium and a detailed documentation of the publicity measures, informational events and opinion studies conducted as part of the public relations work for the population census (texts, polls, charts, photographs and the like).

Frauen in Familie, Beruf und Gesellschaft (The Position of Women in Family, Occu- pation and Society)

Published in 1987, 208 pages, format: DIN A5,
price: DM 12.80
Code number 1020300, ISBN 3-8246-0004-8

For more than 30 years, the Federal Statistical Office has presented in special publications at irregular intervals the family, occupational and social situation of women in the Federal Republic of Germany.

As is the case with its predecessors, this edition contains women-specific data from the various fields of official statistics, arranged according to subject fields. Many charts illustrate trends and structures; comprehensive texts facilitate the access to the presented numerical data.

Familien heute

– Strukturen, Verläufe und Einstellungen – (Families Today – Structures, Processes and Attitudes)

Published in 1990, 282 pages, format: 17×
24 cm, price: DM 17.80
Code number 1021150, ISBN 3-8246-0033-1

In the past decades, the structures of families and households have changed considerably. Due to occupational and spatial mobility, fewer generations are living in one household. In addition to many other reasons, the professional career, self-realization and improved possibilities of income have resulted in a declining propensity to get married and in a smaller number of children per married couple. At the same time, alternative forms of living have developed in addition to the traditional family.

By means of selected official statistics, this publication shows what the family of today looks like, how the components of founding, enlarging and dissolving a family are developing, what families are living on, how they use their income, what their housing conditions are like and what social and economic role the respective spouse plays.

Schriftenreihe "Im Blickpunkt" (Publication Series "In the Spotlight")

The Federal Statistical Office uses this publication series for the statistical presentation of topics which are of general interest. This may refer to a specific population group – such as the one which, in the year of publication, is the focus of United Nations activities, for instance, families, young people, women, etc. – or to subject-related topics such as culture.

The aim of this series is to give a comprehensive description of the topic concerned. As the statistical material is explained and complemented by texts, it has great informational value for all experts dealing with that topic in politics, in government and private institutions and organizations, or in the spheres of science and research, as well as for any citizens interested.

Im Blickpunkt: Familien heute
(In the Spotlight: Families Today)

Published in 1995, 193 pages, format: 17×24 cm, price: DM 22.80
Code number 1021151, ISBN 3-8246-0382-9

This publication has been compiled in cooperation with the Federal Institute for Population Research. In its first part, household structures, the social situation of families, and family-related trend data are presented for Germany, while in the second part, corresponding data are given for Europe to allow comparison. Data of population forecasts are contained, too.

Im Blickpunkt: Ältere Menschen
(In the Spotlight: Elderly People)

Published in 1991, 216 pages, format: 17×24 cm, price: DM 24.80
Code number 1020400, ISBN 3-8246-0229-6

The number of elderly people living in the Federal Republic of Germany will continue to rise in future. This aggravating change in the age structure of the population will have manifold implications for political, social and economic life.

The present book shows the elderly people in the Federal Republic of Germany as reflected by statistics. On the basis of the changes in the age structure of the population, it describes in detail the family bonds as well as the domestic, social and economic situation of elderly people and illustrates from the point of view of statistics their participation in political and social life.

Im Blickpunkt: Ältere Menschen in der Europäischen Gemeinschaft (In the Spotlight: Elderly People in the European Community)

Published in 1994, 92 pages, format: 17×24 cm, price: DM 17.80
Code number 1020410, ISBN 3-8246-0352-7

This publication provides tables and charts containing figures – with detailed explanations – on the age structure, living conditions, and forms of living of the elderly, and on their participation in occupational life. In addition to the presentation of objective factors, there is a separate chapter dealing with the people's subjective perception of their personal situation concerning, for instance, financial means or social contacts between the generations. The main emphasis is placed here on data from the twelve member states of the Community which illustrate both differences between nations and their common features. Moreover, the situation in Germany is described in detail.

Im Blickpunkt: Kultur in Deutschland
– Zahlen und Fakten –
(In the Spotlight: Culture in Germany – Figures and Facts)

Published in 1994, 410 pages, format: 17×24 cm, price: DM 28.80
Code number 1021800, ISBN 3-8246-0369-1

There are many sides to cultural life in Germany. It comprises the two poles of "high culture" and "socioculture", as well as the numerous cultural activities between them. For this publication, many data sources have been evaluated, such as information available at institutes, associations, companies exploiting third-party rights, statistical offices, and other authorities. A comprehensive overview is offered here on the various cultural fields, museums and archives, literature, music, pictorial and visual arts, film and video, radio and television.

Im Blickpunkt: Ausländer in Deutschland
(In the Spotlight: Foreigners in Germany)

To be published presumably in summer 1995, 180 pages, format: 17×24 cm, price: c. DM 22.80
Code number 1021202, ISBN 3-8246-0459-0

This publication is written in an easy language and contains well-structured tables and charts that are easy to use even for non-experts. Target readers are anyone wishing to obtain more detailed information on the nearly seven million people living in Germany with a foreign passport. The background information provided by the publication is indispensable for citizens in authorities or organizations whose job involves dealing with foreigner policies.

The anniversary publication explains these commandments in greater detail and provides an outline of the history of the CES.

Satellite systems are extensions of national accounts which make allowance for the increasing interest attached to statistics on specific spheres of politics. These include, inter alia, environmental protection, public health, the sector of information, and tourism.

For purposes of macroeconomic analyses, the data recorded can be linked with the information shown in the traditional core systems.

This volume deals in particular with the satellite system on the environment which was developed in the Federal Republic of Germany. Most of the contributions included were presented at the 6th Starnberg Symposium on the Further Development of National Accounts, which was held from 2 to 4 December 1985.

The amendment of the Federal Statistics Law gave occasion to defining the position of official statistics. The first section of the volume presents comments of experts from science and official statistics on the question whether and in how far the new legal provisions enable federal statistics to satisfy the needs of their various users. The second section of the volume provides interested readers with material which reveals the reflections and arguments advanced during the legislative procedure.

Vol. 10: Informations- und Kommunikationstechnologien in Wirtschaft und Gesellschaft

Published in 1988, 205 pages, price: DM 16.90
Code number 1030410, ISBN 3-8246-0021-8

In the course of the past few years, there has been a growing interest in modern information and communication technologies and the ensuing consequences for technological, economic and social policies. The statistical data covered so far concerning the production, application and impact of such technologies have however not been sufficient for meeting the relevant requirements. At a scientific symposium held in Wiesbaden on 7/8 March 1988, experts from politics, the economy, science and statistics discussed the concepts and methodology of a targeted statistical recording of information and communication technologies in the economy and society.

This volume comprises all the papers presented at the symposium and informs on the final platform discussion.

Published in 1989, 452 pages, price: DM 22.80
Code number 1030411, ISBN 3-8246-0037-4

The Microcensus Law of 1985 provided for the question to be examined whether future microcensuses may fully or in part dispense with the obligation to provide information. Pilot surveys with voluntary response were scheduled for 1985, 1986 and 1987 to test alternative survey procedures.

This report of the Scientific Advisory Council on Microcensus and Population Census summarizes major considerations on these pilot surveys and their results as well as the assessments and conclusions resulting from the Advisory Council's discussions about the further development of the microcensus.

Vol. 12: Volkszählung, Volkszählungsprotest und Bürgerverhalten

(Population Census, Protests against it and the Citizens' Attitude – Results of the Study Accompanying the 1987 Population Census)

Erwin K. Scheuch, Lorenz Gräf and Steffen Kühnel (auth.)

Published in 1989, 152 pages, price: DM 14.90
Code number 1030412, ISBN 3-8246-0039-0

The 1987 Population Census was preceded by a heated controversy in the general public. For this reason, the Scientific Advisory Council on Microcensus and Population Census suggested to the Federal Statistical Office that some social research be done parallel to the census. The study was to analyse the reasons for the respondents' attitude towards, and their participation in, the 1987 census and to observe changes in these reasons in the course of census taking. The objective was to arrive at conclusions which might help with the preparation of a future census.

The publication contains the results of this accompanying study.

(Time Use Surveys – Objectives, Methods and New Concepts)

Rosemarie von Schweitzer, Manfred Ehling, Dieter Schäfer and others (auth.)

Published in 1990, 208 pages, price: DM 17.30
Code number 1030413, ISBN 3-8246-0036-6

Information on the use of time by the population, i.e. so-called "time use data", are required to settle a number of political issues and to carry out various research assignments.

The Federal Statistical Office has now developed a first concept of a general and representative time use survey that was presented at a scientific symposium to experts from science, politics, the industry and associations.

The purpose of the symposium, which was held in Wiesbaden on 27 and 28 February 1989, was primarily to receive suggestions, requests and supplementations in respect of the concept prepared by the Federal Statistical Office.

Besides the papers presented at the symposium, this publication also contains the contributions made during the final discussion.

Vol. 14: Leben und Arbeiten 2000

– Herausforderung an den Mikrocensus –

(Living and Working 2000 – A Challenge to the Microcensus)

Published in 1990, 228 pages, price: DM 17.60
Code number 1030414, ISBN 3-8246-0051-X

German unity, European single market, environmentally oriented regional planning, labour market, social security and family policy are issues which challenge our society not only today, but which will still be a challenge around the turn of the millennium. Against this background, the 3rd Wiesbaden Talks were held in November 1989 where demands on the microcensus in terms of contents and methodology were formulated and discussed. This volume comprises papers and discussions. The contributions show that, if appropriately developed and carried out, the microcensus can provide answers to many of the urgent questions concerning the comparability of living conditions in Germany and Europe.

Vol. 16: Wege zu einer Umweltökonomischen Gesamtrechnung (Ways to Environmental-Economic Accounting)

Egon Hölder and staff (auth.)

Published in 1991, 159 pages, price: DM 15.80
Code number 1030416, ISBN 3-8246-0067-6

In the past 10 to 15 years, questions concerning the environment have gained more and more in importance for the public at large. This induced the Federal Statistical Office to compile a system of Environmental-Economic Accounting, complementing its national accounts.

In the present volume, the basic considerations of the Federal Statistical Office concerning the objectives of Environmental-Economic Accounting are discussed. On the basis of the various kinds of utilizing the environment, the concept of environment is defined from the point of view of statistics and a modular structure of a Statistical Reporting System on the Environment is proposed.

In addition, the publication gives an outline of the prospects of using the space-related information system STABIS as an instrument of Environmental-Economic Accounting and provides some comments on deriving "Eco-Margins".

Vol. 17: Tourismus in der Gesamtwirtschaft
(Tourism in the Overall Economy)

Published in 1991, 157 pages, price: DM 15.80
Code number 1030417, ISBN 3-8246-0065-X

As part of its Wiesbaden Talks, the Federal Statistical Office convened in March 1990 a conference which dealt with recent developments in the field of tourism and the resulting demands on statistics. Published in 1991, 346 pages, price: DM 20.70
Code number 1030418, ISBN 3-8246-0076-5

The present volume reports on the Workshop on Major Fields of Transition Problems held in Budapest from 15 to 19 October 1990. This workshop consisted of five working groups on national accounts, business registers, price statistics, foreign trade statistics and economic indicators, which discussed statistical questions arising from the transition from a centrally planned economy to the structures of a market economy in the countries of Eastern Europe.

The structure of this report largely follows the basic concept and the development of the workshop: each of the five fields covered is treated in a separate chapter, each chapter being introduced by the working group's final report and complemented by a selection of discussion papers.

Vol. 19: Die faktische Anonymität von Mikrodaten
(The Practical Anonymity of Microdata)

Walter Müller, Uwe Blien, Peter Knoche, Heike Wirth, with the assistance of Petra Beckmann, Stefan Bender, Thomas Helmcke and Michael Müller (auth.)

Published in 1991, 512 pages, price: DM 23.20
Code number 1030419, ISBN 3-8246-0231-8

The Federal Statistics Law of 1987 stipulates that individual data from official statistics may be communicated to science if an allocation to the respondents or the persons concerned would involve an excessive amount of time, costs and manpower (practical anonymity). In a joint research project of the University of Mannheim, the Zentrum für Umfragen, Methoden und Analysen (ZUMA, Mannheim) and the Federal Statistical Office, the concept of practical anonymity was clarified and defined for the field of social sciences, and arrangements were proposed for the practical implementation on the basis of these results. Volume 19 of "Forum der Bundesstatistik" is a detailed report on the concept, methodology, operation and results of this research project.

Vol. 20: Neue Wege raumbezogener Statistik
(New Ways of Space-Related Statistics)

Published in 1992, 200 pages, price: DM 18.80
Code number 1030420, ISBN 3-8246-0081-1

Political decisions increasingly require data on a spatially disaggregated level as well as on the spatial structures themselves. The demand for such data is growing steadily and thus also the demand for new methods of data collection and presentation.

In autumn 1990, a colloquium was held on this subject at the Federal Statistical Office, where numerous experts from administration, economy and science presented the latest results of their work.

The papers included in this volume deal with both fundamental issues and approaches of space-related statistics and the presentation of individual projects of governmental institutions outside statistics as well as research approaches of the private economy. The publication is rounded off by a summary of the discussion which presents the major results of the event in condensed form.

Vol. 21 : Volkszählung 2000 – oder was sonst?

Published in 1992, 286 pages, price: DM 24.80
Code number 1030421, ISBN 3-8246-0331-4

In the last few years, federal statistics has conducted intensive research on alternatives to the present form of the population census. At the 5th Wiesbaden Talks held on 14/15 November 1991, first results were presented to the general public and the discussion was opened on future population counts. The issues treated in depth and from various points of view, and not least of all the discussions with renowned members of the German Bundestag on the future of population censuses and statistics make this publication equally valuable for statisticians, social scientists, the legal profession and administrative scientists, but also for politicians. The publication contains the papers presented and the relevant discussions.

On 12/13 November 1992, the Federal Statistical Office and the German Statistical Society – Committee for the Methodology of Statistical Surveys – held jointly a scientific colloquium. It was the first in a series of joint events which is to provide an annual forum for scientific discussion between representatives of official statistics and its users, with the latter belonging in particular to the spheres of science and research, and also to the economic, political and administrative fields.

Consequently, the contributions to the colloquium that are included in this volume were provided both by producers and users of statistical data. The issues discussed are various criteria and weightings of quality; while users place the emphasis on the requirements to be met, the reports of data producers focus mainly on measures ensuring data quality in official statistics.

Vol. 26: Volkswirtschaftliche Gesamtrechnungen: Bewährte Praxis – Neue Perspektiven

Similar to the first colloquium, documented by volume 25, the annual meetings are to provide a forum for scientific discussion between official statistics and its users who belong, in particular, to the spheres of science, business, politics, and administration.

The contributions to the scientific colloquium held on 11/12 November 1993 cover quite different aspects of national accounting, such as regional accounting, national accounts revisions at an international level, requirements of the European Communities to be met by national accounting concepts, theoretical principles of national accounting, satellite accounts, as well as opportunities and limits of national accounting with regard to measuring welfare.

Sabine Köhler (auth.)

Published in 1994, 82 pages, price: DM 13.80
Code number 1030502, ISBN 3-8246-0344-6

Forest evaluation is of great importance for national wealth determination, the analysis of production processes, and environmental policy issues. This publication examines to what extent it is possible to evaluate the forest (forest soil and forest stands) on the basis of existing statistics as part of the wealth accounts of the national economy and where there are statistical gaps. First, the methods and problems of forest evaluation in theoretical and practical forestry are presented and potential statistical sources are analyzed. This is followed by the development of estimation models and the illustration of dimensions involved.

Vol. 3: "Verbesserung der statistischen Erfassung der Gewinne von Unternehmen als Voraussetzung für eine Einkommensrechnung des Bruttosozialprodukts"
(Improving the statistical coverage of enterprise profits, as a precondition for an income approach to gross national product computation)

To be published presumably in 1995
Code number 1030503, ISBN 3-8246-0350-0

In national accounting of the Federal Republic of Germany, the gross national product is ascertained by applying the production approach and the expenditure approach. It has not been possible so far to carry out a separate calculation following the income approach because there has been no sufficient basis for statistical coverage of enterprise profits. Since the EC directive on capital resources was issued, the question of a separate income approach to national product computation has been gaining in importance also in Germany. Thus it is examined in this volume which improvements to the set of statistical tools are required in order to entirely cover enterprise profits, which would permit to calculate the gross national product on the basis of income data.

Vol. 4: Finanzstatistische Kennzahlen für den Bildungsbereich
(Key figures of finance statistics for the educational sector)

To be published presumably in 1995
Code number 1030504, ISBN 3-8246-0354-3

This publication presents a concept for calculating key figures of finance statistics. Such figures are to show information in an aggregated form and are particularly well suited for comparisons over time and cross-section analyses. Their purpose is to measure the input factor of public expenditure for the sphere of public education and to enable a comparison between the federal Länder.

Vol. 5: Umweltökonomische Berichterstattung

– Ziele, Problemstellungen und praktische Ansätze –
(Environmental-economic reporting – Objectives, problems, and practical approaches)

Joachim Klaus and others (auth.)

Published in 1994, 244 pages, price: DM 24.80
Code number 1030505, ISBN 3-8246-0358-6

Public awareness of environmental damage issues and of the fact that the natural environment is worth being protected has increased in the past years. At the same time, it has more and more been realized that environmental and economic policies have to be coordinated and that this requires reliable information on the complex ecological relations and the interdependency between economic activities and ecological trends. This study presents in detail the manifold approaches to environmental-economic reporting at national and international levels.

Vol. 6: Öffentliche Umweltschutzausgaben als Teil der Maßnahmen im Umweltschutz
(Public expenditures for environmental protection as part of environmental protection measures)

Michael Reidenbach (auth.)

Published in 1994, 118 pages, price: DM 15.80
Code number 1030506, ISBN 3-8246-0378-0

These studies include an independent concept for covering public expenditures for environmental protection at the various federal levels of the Federal Republic of Germany. The results are shown for these individual federal levels, each of them broken down by customary environmental protection areas (air, noise, water, soil protection, etc.). They refer to 1989 and, consequently, to the former territory of the Federal Republic.

Vol. 7: Effizienzbemessung der Hochschul-

(Measuring the efficiency of higher education on a statistical basis)

Published in 1995, 85 pages, price: DM 14.80
Code number 1030507, ISBN 3-8246-0460-4

The main objective of the current efforts aiming at a reform of the German higher education system is to increase both the efficiency of teaching and the competition among the institutions of higher education. Teaching and university studies are to be made more transparent by means of comparative indicators of higher education statistics, which will contribute to making higher education more efficient.

This volume contains contributions of different experts from the spheres of higher education planning, policy, and statistics. Taking as a basis in particular official statistics, it examines the opportunities and problems of calculating performance indicators for the higher education sector.

Statistical Yearbook on CD-ROM

In 1994, the Statistical Yearbooks for the Federal Republic of Germany and for Foreign Countries have been published on CD-ROM for the first time (for the contents cf. page 5).

The CD-ROM offers two functions:

The standard function gives a facsimile representation of the original pages of the book version. The "zoom" allows you to enlarge and reduce the table contents displayed. You may also shift the visible part of the table. Through your printer, all pages may be printed as shown in the book version.

The extended processing functions allow you to export the data from the CD-ROM and process them using your own programs. You may integrate the data into your own files, use them for calculations or to generate graphics, without having to stick to the Yearbook format or to the layout given.

The equipment required to use a CD-ROM is an industrial standard MS-DOS personal computer commercially available and running under MS-Windows™.

If you wish to use only the standard function, the CD-ROM will cost DM 200.- (code number 1010130, ISBN 3-8246-0386-1) – For orders please contact our publishers Metzler-Poeschel, Delivery H. Leins (for the full address see page 4).

Additional processing functions are available on demand. Contact: Federal Statistical Office, ZB/PVM, D-65180 Wiesbaden.

Bildschirmtext (Btx) (Interactive videotex)

Via "Bildschirmtext" (interactive videotex) – Btx –, a comprehensive information programme of more than 1,500 Btx pages is presented under main page *48484#. The central part is the compendium of figures which in easily intelligible tables and graphs provides summary statistical data. Included are data from all spheres of official statistics, from the demographic development to the latest results of the national product computations.

More than 300 indicators of the development of the individual economic sectors, labour market data and national accounts results may be called up from the economic situation column (*484846#). These 60 Btx pages are immediately updated each time new statistical results become available. The price of calling up one table page with data for the economic sectors will be DM 0.10.

Selected basic and structural data for more than 130 countries are offered in the world in figures column (*4848480#). The price of calling up data for one country will be DM 0.10.

Furthermore, information about the current price development can be obtained, publications be ordered and brief inquiries be made by contacting the information service of the Federal Statistical Office.

The press information service (*4848420#) offers the opportunity to order topical press releases.

The joint programme official statistics (*48481#) is a guide to the information programmes of the statistical offices of the Federation and the Länder. It permits, among other things, to have direct access to Btx pages of the compendium of figures and corresponding Btx pages of the Land statistical offices, so that it is possible to call up comparable statistical results for the Federal Republic as a whole and the federal Länder.

Statistical Information System of the Federation (STATIS-BUND)

The Statistical Information System of the Federation (STATIS-BUND) is available for the electronic processing of statistical results. Users may obtain data on data media, order and communicate to their PC data by file transfer via the public telephone network or, upon participation in a user course, carry out online statistical evaluations and mathematical-statistical analyses. In addition to the compilation of tables in the desired form, the system also makes possible special processings as well as the application of a great number of procedures of mathematical-statistical analysis.

The BASIS-BUND mailbox service is offered first of all to customers interested in receiving smaller amounts of current data from the stock of time series of the Statistical Information System of the Federation (STATIS-BUND) by data transfer.

BASIS-BUND stands for Ordering and Retrieving Data from the Statistical Information System of the Federation. The service is based on an electronic mailbox where you can place orders for selected time series and find the data provided. Orders will be filled within a few hours.

To select the time series required, you may "scroll" in the list of data in stock of BASIS-BUND. After preselection, you may also retrieve the complete data documentation in the form of a printable data file.

The technology required for using BASIS-BUND comprises a personal computer equipped with an MS-DOS operating system (from version 3.0 on) and a (Hayes-compatible) modem with a signalling rate of 1,200 or 2,400 bits per second. Registered users will be provided with special utility programs facilitating a comfortable use of the services offered.

Use the user code TESTUSER to get an idea of BASIS-BUND and test the connection established.

Telephone of the mailbox: 06 11/75 29 20
Registration material: 06 11/75 23 19
Technical questions: 06 11/75 32 84
Subject-related questions: 06 11/75 24 26

The fully documented stock of data which comprises more than 500,000 topical time series is continuously updated and extended. The data are available online, on magnetic tape, on floppy disk or as printouts. When ordering large quantities of data, preference should be given to magnetic tapes, while for smaller quantities or a specific selection of time series it will be advisable to use our floppy disk service. The information may be obtained either on a one-time basis or monthly, quarterly and semi-annually as part of an annual subscription.

Online access to a selected part of the time series is also possible via the data processing installations and networks of commercial information providers. Information on access procedures as well as costs may be obtained direct from the firms concerned.

Please direct any inquiries to the Federal Statistical Office in Wiesbaden (tel. 06 11/75 24 26) or the advisory service "Statistical Information System" in Bonn (tel. 02 28/33 27 30; telefax 02 28/33 45 48). Information material may be obtained free of charge.

A catalogue containing about 1,400 definitions of statistical terms used in STATIS-BUND is available as a printed version and on disk (cf. pages 118 and 124).

A monthly business-line service of the Statistical Information System is available as a printed edition (cf. page 125). The business-line service provides up-to-date figures on such categories as orders received, net production, turnover and persons employed. The editions of the business-line service can be ordered individually.

Klassifikation der Wirtschaftszweige, Ausgabe 1993
(Industrial Classification of Economic Activities, 1993 Edition)
– WZ 93

The economic and technological development and the growing demand for statistics that are comparable at the national and European levels and serve as a basis for purposeful economic and social policies as well as for business decisions have necessitated the compilation of a new classification of economic activities. The "Klassifikation der Wirtschaftszweige, Ausgabe 1993" (WZ 93) has generally been applied in the sphere of official statistics since 1 January 1995, replacing the "Systematik der Wirtschaftszweige, Ausgabe 1979" (WZ 79) that was used before.

The WZ 93 is based directly on the "Statistical Classification of Economic Activities within the European Communities" (NACE Rev. 1) which is binding for all EC member states. Through an additional level of breakdown, the WZ 93 meets the specific requirements of the Federal Republic of Germany.

The WZ 93 ensures uniform coverage of the economic activities of statistical units for all statistics. Unlike the WZ 79, it does not at all emphasize institutional aspects, and the breakdown by economic sectors has been completely abandoned.

Units available:

- WZ93mErl: "Klassifikation der Wirtschaftszweige mit Erläuterungen, Ausgabe 1993" (Industrial Classification of Economic Activities with Explanations, 1993 Edition)
- WZ93-ISIC: "Klassifikation der Wirtschaftszweige, Ausgabe 1993" (Industrial Classification of Economic Activities, 1993 Edition) without explanations, including the coding of the United Nations International Standard Industrial Classification of All Economic Activities (ISIC Rev. 3).

Systematisches Güterverzeichnis für Produktionsstatistiken, Ausgabe 1995
(Product Classification for Production Statistics, 1995 Edition)
 – GP95

Since the first quarter of 1995, the "Systematisches Güterverzeichnis für Produktionsstatistiken, Ausgabe 1995" (GP 95) has been the official classification for the quarterly production survey conducted as part of the statistics in production industries. It replaces the "Güterverzeichnis für Produktionsstatistiken, Ausgabe 1989" (GP 89). The GP 95 is an extended version of the PRODCOM list and takes account of specific aspects of the German situation; the PRODCOM list forms the basis for an obligatory Community-wide survey of the manufacturing of products. The headings have been defined and delimited on the basis of the "Harmonized Commodity Description and Coding System" (HS) and the "Combined Nomenclature" (CN) of foreign trade statistics. This will now allow direct comparisons between production and foreign trade.

As the principle of industrial origin is applied, the GP 95 structure is closely linked – through the PRODCOM list – with the structure of the "Statistical Classification of Economic Activities within the European Communities" (NACE Rev. 1). This is also shown by the identical coding at corresponding hierarchical levels. As the "Klassifikation der Wirtschaftszweige, Ausgabe 1993" (WZ 93) has been developed on the basis of NACE Rev. 1, it is now possible to indicate the activities of the WZ 93 subclasses in terms of GP 95 products which are manufactured mainly by units of those subclasses.

Units available:

- GP95: "Systematisches Güterverzeichnis für Produktionsstatistiken, Ausgabe 1995" (Product Classification for Production Statistics, 1995 Edition)

Warenverzeichnis für die Außenhandelsstatistik (Commodity Classification for Foreign Trade Statistics) – WVZ95

The "Warenverzeichnis für die Außenhandelsstatistik" is a nomenclature classifying the commodities both for the statistics of trading of goods with the EC member states (intra-Community trade) and for trade with third countries (extra-Community trade). As far as required for foreign trade statistics, chapters 1 to 97 fully correspond to the Combined Nomenclature (CN) introduced by the EC Commission. The breakdown of chapter 98 (complete production plants exported), however, is in some cases more detailed than the CN breakdown. The contents of chapter 99 have been compiled from national aspects only. Its headings are used for a simplified procedure of goods declaration applicable under specific conditions.
